Art Unit: 3641

1. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for examination purposes, even though this requirement is traversed. The single species shall be a single example of the composition, with all the ingredients thereof particularly specified. Related search is required in a number of subclasses in class 149, depending on these details, and thus this requirement is based upon PTO policy regarding undue breadth, and or Markush terminology, MPEP 809.02(d) and 803.02. At least claims 1, 15 and 41 are generic. Upon reconsideration, with the claims, even as amended, still including such broad terms as “binder”, “oxidizer”, and so on, it appears that additional search may be required in almost any of the class 149 subclasses to insure the amended claims are considered with a suitable breadth of the search.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
